

Writing NSW Varuna Fellowship 2024 Terms & Conditions

- Applicants must be current members of Writing NSW.
- You may only submit one application. The application fee for entry is $45 to cover administration and reading costs. You will be directed to pay the fee upon submitting your application. Applications that are not accompanied by the fee will not be considered.
- Submitted material must be your own original work.
- Fiction of all genres, narrative non-fiction, poetry and plays are eligible for submission. Instructional books, translations, picture books, film and television scripts are not eligible.
- Your name must not appear on your manuscript, synopsis or statement.
- Submitted work must be in English, typed using 1.5 spacing with generous margins. For poems, use single spacing, with double spacing between stanzas.
- Each page must include a page number and title or descriptor.
- Applications must be submitted no later than the closing date. Late applications will not be considered.
- Application materials will not be returned under any circumstances.
- The residency is to be negotiated directly with Varuna, the Writers' House, and availability is dependent on their schedule.
- Copyright remains the property of the author but Writing NSW reserves the right to use chosen entries to promote the fellowship.
- Successful applicants will be notified directly. The names of the successful applicants will be posted on the Writing NSW website.
- The winners agree to write a report of their residency experience to be used by Writing NSW to promote the fellowship.
- The judges' decision is final and it is not possible to provide feedback on individual entries.
- Whilst applicants are welcome to apply to concurrent Varuna Fellowship programs, they can only be selected as a winner for one.
